Pastor's Pen

So, if I were to ask you how you're doing when it comes to getting along with other people, think of all the people in your life that you're dealing with. How are you doing at getting along with them? You may say, "OK!" Some good, some bad, because some people are easy to get along with. And some people are hard to get along with. You also discovered that some Christians are easy to get along with and some Christians are hard to get along with, True?

But you know what? You have to be in heaven with them all one day. Ever think about it that way? Sometimes I'll think about that. I don't get too excited about that. I go, "Really, I have to be in heaven with that person forever?" I don't want to bump into him there and go, "Oh, it's you," or they to me. But the truth is all of us have our own baggage. We have our own idiosyncrasies. We have our own ways and they rub up against the ways and idiosyncrasies of other people even in the Body of Christ.

So today, we will speak about unity and what that means for us individually and corporately.

Blessings,
Pastor Joe
